

Awarded the Queen's Award for Enterprise: Sustainable Development

The creation of Ward William's Beehives

Our promise is to make positive progress for people, places and planet through authenticity, imagination and impact.

Ward Williams is an independent built environment consultancy, with a big conscience – the first Chartered Surveying firm to become a B Corp in the world – we are determined to set a new standard of excellence throughout the UK and Europe.

Expert 'solutionists', 50 years in the making – we are focused on creating better 'futures' for our clients, partners, and people.

On this page you will find some of our proudest recent impact highlights. If you'd like to talk to someone about this topic please contact generalenquiries@wardwilliams.uk

B Corporation

We believe business can and should be a Force for Good and it was this belief that started our journey towards becoming a B Corp to increase our positive impact on people and the planet. Ward Williams became a fully certified B Corp in 2020, reflecting our commitment to openness, accountability and transparency.

To give some context on the requirements, a median score for an average business is 50.9 using B Corp's score metric, a score of 80 qualifies for B Corp Certification. In 2020 Ward Williams achieved a noteworthy score of 135.5.

In 2023 Ward Williams re-certified with a score of 163.9 cementing our achievements and the direction of progress we're making as an organisation.
